Homes Damaged, One Slightly Hurt

Tornado Hits In Backusburg

A tornado touched down at 3:15 a.m. Friday in northwest Calloway County, slightly injuring one man and causing damage to three houses and a tobacco barn in the Backusburg community.

Ironically, it was at the same time exactly one month ago, February 23, also a Friday, that the only other tornado of the year struck. That tornado hit in the East Y Manor subdivision off of KY 94, causing considerable damage to several homes.

This morning's tornado was part of a series of thunderstorms which moved through west Kentucky during the night and then spread across the rest of the state, according to the National Weather Service.

Udell Smith, Rt. 1 Kirksey, owner of two of the damaged houses, stated that high winds, traveling northeast, blew the covers off his bed and out the window and ripped all the bricks off the north side of that house, where his bedroom was located. Smith received minor cuts and scratches.

Smith's wife had fallen asleep in the television room, watching the tornado watch. She said when the tornado hit broken glass and splinters of wood were flying all over the house. A piece of plate glass about 8 inches by 10 inches was driven into a wall across the room. She was not injured.

The house next door, also owned by Smith and unoccupied at the time, received heavy damage to the south and east sides. Debris was scattered throughout both lots, a few trees were uprooted and some telephone lines were damaged.

A third house, owned by Joe Burnett and located across the road from the Smith homes, had a Fiberglas wellhouse and two television antennas blown over.

The tobacco barn, southwest of the three houses, had part of its roof blown off.

John Ed Scott, official local weather observer for the National Weather Service, stated that the county had 1.09 inches of rain since 6 p.m. Thursday.

Pair Charged With Wednesday Morning Theft Of Haulaway

Two people were arrested Thursday night and charged with theft by unlawfully taking of a haulaway Wednesday morning, according to Kentucky State Police reports.

Roger Dale Jones and Deborah Bowerman, both of Route 1, Hardin, are lodged today in the Calloway County Jail. The pair allegedly took the haulaway, which contained several cars, from Cain's AMC Jeep and then abandoned it east of Murray on Highway 94.

The Murray City Police assisted the state police in the investigation.

Tonya McCuiston did her best to rally the Calloway County girls past Oldham County last night in the Girls State High School Basketball Tournament in Richmond, but the Lakers lost 58-50. For details, see today's sports section, pages 8-10. Staff photo by Tony Wilson TORNADO — A tornado touched down at 3:15 a.m. Friday in the community of Backusburg. Severe damage was done to the unoccupied home of Udell Smith, who was next door at the time of the tornado. Smith's other home was damaged and he was treated for minor cuts and scratches. The tornado made a path about half a mile long and 300 to 400 feet wide.

Council Turns Back Pay Hike For Next Council And Mayor

A proposal that would have upped salaries of city council members to $1,200 per year beginning in 1980 and the salary of Murray's mayor to $12,500 beginning in 1982 was defeated by a margin of greater than two-to-one on the council floor Thursday.

The proposal, initiated at an earlier council meeting this month, was an outgrowth of recent legislation by the Kentucky General Assembly which requires council members be paid on an "annual" rather than a "per meeting" basis, as is presently done in Murray.

The proposal would have hiked council members' pay from $15 per meeting to $100 per month. The new state law, as interpreted by the Kentucky attorney general and city attorney J. William Phillips, stipulates that council members must be paid on an "annual" basis not exceeding $3,000 per year.

The current mayor's salary of $5,000 annually would have been increased by $7,500 beginning at the end of Mayor Melvin B. Henley's first four-year term.

Councilman C. C. Lowry urged his fellow council members to reject the ordinance saying "I think it's in the best interest of our city (rejection of the pay increase)... we held our employees down to a minimum increase and it's not consistent to increase our salaries." Lowry also pointed out the tight budget the city is operating under as another reason to turn down proposal.

"Dr. Lowry is correct about the tight budget," Mayor Henley told the council. "Henley said preliminary figures from the 1978 budget indicated the city operated with a $13,000 surplus... in a $1.6 million budget, less than (a) one percent (surplus)."

Councilman J. D. Outland said he feels the proposal should be closely looked at by the council's budget committee.

"I'm not nearly as concerned about council pay as I am about the mayor's pay," Outland said. "As far as I'm concerned, if Mayor Henley were getting $30,000 a year now the city of Murray would be getting a bargain."

Marshall Jones, who favored the increases, chastised the opponents of the measure by saying failure to approve it means "we want to have a horse and buggy government in Murray."

Voting in favor of the pay increase were council members Jones, Dick George, and Outland. Against the proposal were Martha Sammons, J. H. Nix, W. R. Furches, Howard Koenen, Billy Valentine, Ruby Hale, Dave Willis and Lowry. Councilman Steve Yarbrough was absent from the meeting.

The council's budget and finance committee headed by Dr. Lowry was directed to review the council pay situation and report back at the next meeting.

In other business at Thursday's meeting, the council:

— Approved the extension of the city and county's contract with Mercy

Ambulance Service to Dec. 31, 1979 with an additional subsidy payment of $10,000—$4,000 from the city and $6,000 from the county. The contract was slated to expire June 30 of this year. Mayor Henley told the council he feels the extension should allow enough time to investigate the possibility of Murray-Calloway County Hospital taking over the operation.

— Approved the appointment of Paul Jerry Lee as police chief (additional story, this page).

— Approved the implementation of a federal Section Eight Existing Housing

Hale Explains Property Evaluation

A statement concerning property tax legislation adopted by the Kentucky General Assembly during its special session was issued today by Calloway County Property Valuation Administrator Charles Hale. Hale's statement said:

"A 'Special Session' of the general assembly was called for the purpose of passing legislation that would control the rising cost of taxes in Kentucky."

"The price of land is constantly on the rise. The price of building materials is increasing at a rate of 10 percent to 17 percent per year. This causes the price of non-market type homes and land to increase in value at an accelerated rate also."

"The property valuation administrators are compelled by law to assess property at its 'fair market value.'

"This year we are being required to upgrade our assessments. As a result of House Bill 44, the tax rates will be 'rolled back' to permit each taxing district only a four percent increase in money without a voted referendum."

"Unless a tax increase by the taxing districts over the four percent is permitted by the taxpayers, there will not be much change in most tax bills because of the new values as set by the property valuation administrator. The increases in taxes would have been permitted regardless of the new values as a result of HB44."

"Notices will be mailed to the taxpayers showing the new values."

Paul Jerry Lee Named New Murray Police Chief

Murray Police Capt. Paul Jerry Lee, a veteran with 12 years of service on the police force, was named Murray city police chief by the Murray Common Council Thursday.

Lee, 39, a native of Murray, actually began work with the city in 1963 as a member of the Fire Department staff. He transferred to the Police Department in 1967. He has served as acting chief since the resignation of former police chief Brent Manning at the end of February.

A graduate of Murray High School, Lee received his bachelor's degree from Murray State University and has earned 24 hours toward a master's degree. Many of the courses Lee has taken are in various areas of law enforcement.

Lee served as president of the Fraternal Order of Police from 1972 to 1974 and served on the board of directors of the Kentucky Police Officers Association. He was listed in Outstanding Young Men of America in 1972. He received an honorable discharge from the U. S. Air Force.

Lee is a Methodist and a member of Masonic Lodge 105 F & AM.

The new police chief and his wife are the parents of a 17-year-old daughter, Angie, a senior at Murray High School.

"All the men in the interim period have been great," Chief Lee said, "they've all given 110 percent and we have a good working relationship within the department. I feel that we have the best police department in the state of Kentucky and I'm eager for us to get the recognition throughout the state that we deserve. We will be working with the state police and police departments in the area in transferring cases in an effort to further eliminate the crime element from the Jackson Purchase.

"I am thrilled with the position and I want the public to understand that we are public servants here not only to enforce the law but to help them in any way we can," Chief Lee added.

School Board Acts On Several Routine Matters

By DEBBIE N. LEE
Staff Reporter

The Murray Independent Board of Education took action on several routine matters in a brief public meeting which adjourned into executive session to hear staff evaluations. Robertson and Carter Elementary Schools principal Mary Ryan and Murray High School principal Roy Weatherly gave the board the evaluations.

Superintendent Robert Glin Jeffrey told board members that he is proceeding with plans to display copies of the Ten Commandments in the system's classrooms following the ruling Tuesday by Franklin Circuit Judge Squire Williams Jr. upholding the constitutionality of the law, which was adopted by the 1978 Kentucky General Assembly.

In dismissing a suit filed by five Louisville-area residents and dissolving an injunction which had held up implementation of the law, Williams ruled that it does not clash with the state or federal constitutions regarding the separation of church and state.

The law, which provides for 10-by-20 inch copies of the commandments in all public school classrooms, requires that they be funded entirely with private donations, although the state Department of Education is directed to help in the distribution.

Jeffrey said that several local church groups have advised him they wish to raise money for the copies. He expects the Ten Commandments to be hung in the city's 118 classrooms by the beginning of the 1979-80 school year.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Annie Knight, Murray Middle School teacher, and Sandra A. May, director of the Murray Historic Project. Both resignations cited the desire to continue their education.

In other personnel matters, Mary Hopson Hocking was approved as an elementary substitute teacher.

Board members were shown a copy of the book, "What You Should Know About The Gifted," prepared by Mrs. Margaret Brown, director of the school system's gifted-talented program. Jeffrey noted that he will apply to the state for a renewal of the gifted-talented grant for next year.

The superintendent was also approved by the board to pursue any federal educational projects or grants that he deems to be in the best interest of the schools. Projects the Murray system is now participating in include Title I, Title VII, Title IVC and Title IVB.

Jeffrey requested a special called meeting of the board on Tuesday, April 3, to recommend certified staff and aides for the 1979-80 school year.

HEALTH

Treatment for depression

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband is 57 years old. He has become very depressed and his personality has changed. He takes Aldomet, Dalmene and Diazide and some other medicines. He takes all of these except the Dalmene on an empty stomach.

He drinks whiskey and beer with his medicine. I am so worried. Please tell me if all these can be mixed. What will this do to him?

DEAR READER — I presume that your husband has a problem with high blood pressure or he wouldn't be getting Aldomet and Diazide. Both are good medicines and are commonly used in the treatment of high blood pressure.

The Dalmene is a sleeping pill and like all other sleeping pills is not recommended to be used regularly on a continuous basis, although it can be prescribed intermittently for individuals who have problems sleeping.

Any of the sedatives are depressors of the brain and nerve function. That's how they work. Alcohol is also a depressant. People who use sedatives should not be drinking alcohol. Also, alcohol is never a help to a person who has a problem with a depression. It's common for people who have a depression to have difficulty sleeping.

Why is your husband depressed? Is it because he has high blood pressure and is concerned about his health? Is it because he is in his middle years and is going through certain adjustments that are fairly common at that stage of life?

If he is having enough difficulty to be using whiskey and beer to cope with his life situations, I think he definitely should seek some professional help. By that I mean a psychiatrist. An evaluation of his basic problem could lead to his being able to resolve the difficulties. It could mean that he might need less medicine.

Depressions are not something that you should ignore, even if they are associated with some other known medical problems such as high blood pressure. At least the moderate to severe ones require professional help. To give you a better understanding of what depressions are and what should be done about them, I am sending you The Health Letter number 10-10, Depression: The Ups And Downs Of Life.

As The Health Letter I'm sending you explains, you don't have to be totally incapacitated to have a depression that saps your energy and strength. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Two general recommendations that can be made would be that if your husband is overweight, urge him to lose it gradually and if he is inactive and his physical state will permit it, he should start a gradual exercise program. A good walk every day sometimes helps lift the spirits and when done continually does wonders for one's peace of mind and health.

It is important to realize that almost all serious illnesses represent two disorders, not just one. First there is the serious illness, such as heart disease or high blood pressure. The second disorder is the psychological reaction to the original disease.

The normal reaction to finding out that you have a disease that cannot be quickly and easily cured is to be anxious about it. Depending upon the nature of the illness it can cause you to be depressed. Both problems must be treated to provide real relief for the patient.

All persons who have read the book are invited to attend and take part in the discussion, a spokesman said.

Caputo-Scribner Vows Solemnized At Church

The wedding of Miss Cynthia Kay Caputo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Caputo, 323 Seraphin, Ste. Genevieve, Mo., to D. Robert Scribner of Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Scribner, Schenectady, N. Y., was solemnized on Saturday, Feb. 3, at 3 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, Ste. Genevieve.

Dr. Robert Doom performed the double ring ceremony. A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Janet Langley, organist, and Ms. Francie Beard, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lynn Caputo, as her matron of honor, and a friend, Mrs. Cathy Donze, as her bridesmaid.

Roger Reichmuth was best man and Ray Conklin was groomsmen. They are both friends of the groom. Mark and David Caputo, brothers of the bride, were the ushers.

Reception

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the American Legion Hall at Ste. Genevieve, Mo.

Presiding at the guest book and serving the guests were Ms. Linda Vollmar, Ms. Lorraine Stange, and Ms. Jeanne Stange.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Scribner spent their honeymoon in New Orleans, La., and are now residing in Murray.

Mrs. Scribner, a private piano music teacher, graduated from Murray State University and received her Master of Music degree from Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

BIRTHS

MARTIN BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Martin of Route 7, Marion, are the parents of a baby boy, Jason Matthew, weighing seven pounds two ounces, measuring 19 inches, born on Sunday, March 18, at 12:38 p.m. at the Western Baptist Hospital, Paducah.

The father is employed with Moore's Business Forms and the mother is on leave from Potters, both at Marion.

Grandparents are Billy Martin and the late Mrs. Wilda Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Garlon Trimble, all of Marion. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Troy Cleve Parrish, Dexter Route 1.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Robert Scribner

Mr. Scribner, teacher of trumpet on the music faculty at Murray State University, received his bachelor and master's degrees in music education in 1970 and 1972 from Murray State. Currently he is in progress on his Ph.D. degree, also in music education, from North Texas State University, Denton, Texas.

Tau Phi Lambda Sorority Plans For State Convention At Meet

The Tau Phi Lambda Sorority, Unit 827, Woodmen of the World, met Tuesday, March 20, at the home of Marilyn Herndon with Cynthia Hart as cohostess.

Ann Spann, president, presided with minutes and roll call by Dianna Lyons, secretary, and the financial report by Linda Fain, treasurer.

Final plans for the state convention to be held in Louisville April 6, 7, and 8 were made. Nine members plan to attend.

The welfare committee members—Judy McCarty, Donna Garland, and Cynthia Hart—reported that magazines and tray favors for St. Patrick's Day were presented to the Murray-Calloway County Hospital for the patients.

Social committee members reported a dance will be held Friday, May 4, at the Woodmen Hall for the sorority members and friends.

The Kentucky Little Miss Pageant committees made plans for the event on May 19 with the deadline for entrants to be March 31.

The door prize was won by Loretta Jobs.

Those present were Jean Richerson, Sara Alexander, Loretta Jobs, Cynthia Hart, Dianna Lyons, Donna Garland, Linda Fain, Ann Spann, Judy McCarty, and Marilyn Herndon.

Bride-elect Honored At Breakfast Held Saturday

Miss Ann Mahan, Fulton, bride-elect of William Alton Smith, Jr., of Murray, was complimented at a breakfast on Saturday, March 17, at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Homer Wilson, Fulton, with Mrs. Howard Edwards and Mrs. Bill Fossett as cohostesses.

This was the first of several pre-nuptial courtesies planned for the week to honor Miss Mahan who is home from the University of Kentucky on spring break.

Arrangements of mums, jonquils, orchids, and crocuses provided a spring setting for the party. A two-course breakfast was served to 14 guests.

The bride's table was centered with a bouquet of yellow mums, arranged in a white wicker basket and green place mats were used. Placecards marked each place.

Guests included the honoree's mother, Mrs. Thomas Mahan of Fulton, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Sr., of Murray.

What Every Boy Shouldn't Know

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've been divorced three years and have a 15-year-old son who lives with me. For the last eight months I have been dating a man I care a great deal for, but we are not engaged. (I'll call him Bob.)

When my son visits his father, which is nearly every weekend, Bob sleeps over, but I never let him sleep with me when my son is home.

This has caused some serious arguments between us. Bob insists that it wouldn't make any difference to my son if we slept together while he was home. I think it would, and I'm not about to ask him.

Do you think I'm being "deceitful and phony" to stick to my decision? My friend says I am.

How do other women in my position handle this? NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: I think your behavior can be more appropriately described as "discreet" than deceitful and phony. Stick to your decision.

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure you've heard of Peeping Toms, but I'll bet you've never heard of Peeping Tina.

Tina is my wife, and she's got this thing about looking at naked men. We have a view of a large apartment building from our bedroom window, and Tina gets a kick out of looking at men in various stages of undress. While I'm watching TV she stands in the dark bedroom hoping to get a glimpse of a naked guy. She knows what time certain neighbors undress for bed and who pulls down the shades and who doesn't, and that's her entertainment.

Now I'm not a prude, and I've never denied Tina a good look at me in my birthday suit, so I can't understand why she's so fascinated with naked men. Is something wrong with her? She's 35 and I'm 37.

PUZZLED IN MANHATTAN

DEAR PUZZLED: If Tina's preoccupation with naked men is sudden, maybe something is wrong with her. Such curiosity is considered normal in adolescent children, but at 35 your wife should have outgrown it. She's too young to be considered a dirty old lady, but don't laugh it off. Talk it out. It's obviously sexual. Maybe Tina's missing something.

DEAR ABBY: I know a widow in her 70s who is quite remarkable. (I'll call her Aunt Libby.) Circumstances are such that this lady has had to make her home with her daughter for the last 12 years. Aunt Libby is active, cheerful and a joy to be with. Best of all, she knows how to keep from being in the way.

Aunt Libby makes herself available to stay in the homes of parents who want a responsible adult there for a weekend or longer.

She does this not so much for the money (which she can use, of course) but she likes to get out of her daughter's home for a while. I have even known her to spend her own money to go to a motel for a few days—saying she needs HER privacy, when it is really her wish to give her daughter's family THEIR privacy.

What do you think of a woman like that?

Your Body: God's Gift

In I Corinthians Paul enunciated some great principles which are very helpful to Christians who are seeking to understand God's plan for the use of their bodies.

I Corinthians 6:15-20
 "Because the Corinthian Christians lived in the midst of a people who practiced and vindicated licentiousness, Paul here placed strong emphasis on the fact that the human body is not designated for indulgence in licentiousness, but that Christ has a just claim upon it, and rightfully expects it to be devoted to Him and His service. It is possible for one to think that he is his own master. However, it should be very evident that, since no one has created or sustained himself, he cannot be his own, and does not have any right to injure self in the service of Satan."

"For ye are bought with a price." If you are a child of God, you have been redeemed from the curse of the law, the wrath of God, and the vassalage of Satan. Therefore, it is your persistent responsibility to "glorify God in your body." Seemingly some have the attitude, "I can do what I please with my body." But that attitude is wrong. When one abuses or misuses his body he is abusing or misusing that which belongs to another. When one becomes a child of God his body becomes the temple of the Holy Spirit. Indwelt by the Holy Spirit, one is not free to act as he pleases, but he is responsible for glorifying God. "Man's chief end is to glorify God."

God made your body, loaned it to you for your lifetime, gives you every beat of your heart and every breath of your lungs, wants to work with your hands, and longs to speak with your tongue. Yield yourself to God without reservation or delay, thereby making it possible for Him to use you for His glory and for the benefit of others. Glorify God in your body by thinking about Him, by turning your thoughts into aspirations, and by transforming your aspirations into actions which please and honor Him.

I Corinthians 7:3-7
 The Christians in Corinth consulted Paul about problems and he readily gave them sound advice with reference to their proper solution. Some of their letters contained specific questions about relevant and important matters. Prompted by the circumstances prevailing in Corinth, with the masses being devoid of any scruples against indulgence in immorality, they inquired of Paul as to the advisability of marriage.

In response to their question, Paul did not state any rule as to whether or not the Corinthian Christians should marry. He did not assert that either state, the unmarried or the married, was more holy than the other. He declared that the married state was good and that marriage was honorable. He acknowledged that each state had some advantages, and he reminded them that the decision to marry or not to marry was a privilege given to everyone. He taught them that the important thing is to follow the leading of the Lord in this matter.

Marriage is the natural and normal thing for most individuals, but many do not need a partner in marriage. It is the will of God for all to abstain from immorality. Before marriage God requires all to practice continence, and after marriage all are obligated to be faithful to his or her partner until death. Both husband and wife are to be sensitive to the needs of the other, and to give the other his or her conjugal rights. The sexual relationship is divinely restricted to those who are married to each other, even though some ruthlessly disregard what God's Word has to say on this subject.

Bible Thought

Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him, and maketh him drunken also, that thou mayest look on thy nakedness. Habakkuk 2:15.

Drunkenness and sex sins often go hand in hand. They make people miserable. This is the judgment of God.

The Story Of

Calloway County

1822-1976 By Dorothy and Kerby Jennings

Copyright, 1978

While the women folks manned the country phone, the men folks monopolized the gossip around the country stove. Many a winter crop was planted, many a stove spattered with ambere during these sessions. Politicians were made and broken from firebrands to ashes from daybreak until sundown—the beginning and closing marking the public life from the private life of folks down on the farm. From this source of information, the news of the world was reduced to the understanding of the unlearned listener through an effective country store persuader. It was a good life, providing the needed opiate to soothe the uncertainty of the farmer subject to vagaries of flood and drought, plenty and want.

Step by step, farm folks took a little bit and gave a little bit with the methodic precision economic forces strangely handed down. Some would call it the law of compensation. By whatever title this force of sharing was an essential to frontier life. For an absolute stranger to stop at a farmplace near noontime for direction to a distant village or a neighbor's house, the reply would be in keeping with the inquiry, nonetheless, the stranger would be asked to stay for dinner as if the invitation were a verbal obligation. Equally would be the proffer of hospitality should the stranger arrive near dark by the simple but sincere statement: "Won't you spend the night?"

Wintertime fun activities among young people of Murray included ice skating and snow sledding. Be as it may, this was not a commonplace indulgence among farm youths. Three hills in town highlighting the sledding scene were Pool Spring Hill, Christian Church Hill, and Cook Hill; the first being that on the site of the old Hosiery Mill just east and running parallel with South 4th Street, the second church hill was just off court square on North 5th Street, and Cook Hill was on the southwest portion of the present hospital grounds, extending south to the fence where the graveyard rested. For an excellent description of sledding in Murray reference is made to Dr. Hugh McElrath's "Murray" which presents the occasions with nostalgic pleasureableness.

Ice skating, as was the case with sledding, was dependent on the climate. In the extraordinary freezes, Clark's River at the Paris Bridge long span of water, was the supreme rink. For safer exercise in the sport, the pond at the east end of the race track was a key congregating point. McElrath's Pond on the parking lot just west of the Tappan Co. plant served as a small rink after the discontinuance of cutting ice for home use by the family. Incidentally, the old ice house still stands on the site.

For an opposite end of the climatic pole, the favorite swimming hole for Murray youths was Little Mill, half mile south of the old Battling Bridge on the old New Concord Road. Old Mill, the deeper in-the-raw swimming hole, was downstream two miles. The Tub mysteriously vanished from the scene (between the two watering holes) as invisibly as it was carved out of soapstone by an uncanny team of floating water. "Mixed washing" was condemned on high by fundamentalist ministers even with those old long-legged swim suits.

Contemporary Religious Thought

The Trial Of Jesus

By The Rev. Custis Fletcher
Retired Episcopal Minister

The Trial of Jesus is as fascinating to today's Bible student as it has always been, once the accounts began to take written form. U.S. Judge James Gordon made a talk on the subject to the Men's Bible Study Class at St. Mary's, Madisonville in the 1950's that is still recalled today by those who were present. Not being a lawyer, I can hardly expect to do as well, yet I find it truly interesting to consider the questions Pilate asks as we find them in the 18th and 19th chapters of John's Gospel.

"What accusation do you bring against this man?" the Roman Governor asks. Whether we think of Pilate as acting like the desk sergeant at the local police court, or the judge in his robes, it does seem like a formal arraignment. But almost at once we note a breakdown in procedure. The answer is not satisfactory. But we discover a contest between one group of men who are determined to put Jesus to death and one man who is determined to acquit him! The group of men, who in the end have their way, are stubborn men. They make Pilate come out to them!

Because of their religious law they would have become ceremonially defiled had they entered the praetorium, so Pilate goes to them. And after a skirmish (Pilate may have been very cautious not to commit some legal error,) he goes back and asks Jesus "Are you the king of the Jews?" Then in this gospel there is some bickering on Pilate's part. When Jesus asks the source of the charge, Pilate counters with "Am I a Jew?...your own people have handed you over. What have you done?"

to condemn himself? Jesus admits his kingship but defines it with care. When he speaks of truth, then Pilate asks "What is truth?" (A well known poet pointed out he didn't stay to hear the answer!)

At this point Pilate is ready to release Jesus, but his judgement is not accepted. He asks if they want Jesus released according to the custom of releasing a prisoner at the time of the feast. The quarrel continues. When Pilate hears the accusers say Jesus made himself the Son of God, he goes back to ask Jesus where he came from.

In frustration at Jesus' silence, he cries "Why will you not speak to me? Don't you know I can put you to death?"

The sad spectacle continues until Pilate asks that final question "Shall I crucify your King?"

By Roman and Jewish standards the whole trial was a mockery, full of legal mistakes. However, we who have given our lives to Jesus are not concerned over legal redress. Our concern must be with our present relationship with Jesus.

How do we answer the questions Pilate posed? Especially how do we respond to the last question? Would we crucify Jesus by our sins? Would we nail him to the cross who now is King of Glory?

Only after we try the law as a way of self-righteousness can we become hopeless except in trusting Jesus. We need a savior. We need a King. Pilate said "ECCE HOMO - behold the man." We see his trial and say to the world "Behold your king."

HEARTLINE

Heartline is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 East Dayton Street, West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am a 67-year-old widower. I live on my Social Security benefits and my company's pension check. My problem is that I will soon be going into the hospital for surgery for cataracts. My doctor has suggested that I get contact lenses instead of regular glasses. I still have not decided which to get. The main thing I am concerned about is will Medicare cover the cost of contact lenses for me? — C.E.

Yes, Medicare does cover the cost of contact lenses after cataract surgery. All brands of hard contact lenses are covered. Medicare only covers soft contact lenses made by Bausch and Lomb, Milton Roy, Inc., Soflens, Inc. and Alcon Laboratories, Inc. We must also point out that Medicare will cover either the contact lenses or the regular glasses but not both.

Medicare coverage of contact lenses and glasses only applies to a person who needs them after cataract surgery. They do not cover the cost of regular eye glasses or contact lenses.

For people who are now on the Medicare program or will soon be turning 65 and going on Medicare, we now have available the new 1979 version of Heartline's Guide to Medicare. This book is written in easy-to-understand, question-and-answer form. You can receive this book by sending $1.75 to Heartline's Guide to Medicare, 114 East Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. This book is completely guaranteed, and if you are not satisfied, your money will be refunded.

HEARTLINE: I am 63 and I draw my Social Security retirement benefit. The last several years during this time of year, I have been laid up by some bad colds. Do you have any helpful hints in regard to this? — K.J.

As the cough and common cold season approaches, it may be advisable to check supplies in the family medicine chest. Although U.S. consumers spend something like $700 million a year on "cold cures," according to an estimate by the Federal Food and Drug Administration, none will cure or even shorten a cold.

Experts advise that proper use of some nonprescription drugs may relieve several symptoms associated with a cold. These experts were called on by the FDA to study the problem of safety, effectiveness and label accuracy of some 90 active ingredients used in cough, cold and related products. The nonprescription products were divided into six groups and placed in one of three categories: (1) generally recognized as safe and effective and not mislabeled; (2) not generally recognized as safe and effective; and (3) insufficient data at present to permit classification. Brand names of products containing the ingredients considered safe and effective were not provided, but alert consumers can secure the ingredient classifications by sending for "The Common Cold: Relief But No Cure" available without charge from Consumer Information Center, Dept. 642E, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

HEARTLINE: Can one person have more than one Social Security number? I have a friend who claims that she does. — R.A.

A person is not supposed to have two Social Security numbers, although many people do. Quite often a person will obtain a number, go many years without ever using it, lose all records of it and apply for another, forgetting about the first. If a person thinks that he may have quarters of work under two different Social Security numbers, he should report it to the nearest Social Security office.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, March 23, the 82nd day of 1979. There are 283 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1775, Patrick Henry made a plea for American freedom in a speech before the Virginia provincial convention in Richmond, declaring: "Give me liberty or give me death."

On this date:

In 1657, England and France signed a treaty in Paris for joint attacks against Spanish-held territory.

In 1919, Benito Mussolini founded a new political movement in Italy.

In 1942, during World War II, the forced movement of Japanese-Americans from their homes on the U.S. west coast to inland camps began.

In 1965, Pakistan became a republic but retained membership in the British Commonwealth.

In 1966, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Arthur Ramsey, met Pope Paul VI at the Vatican, marking the first official meeting between the heads of the Anglican and Roman Catholic churches in four centuries.

In 1967, NASA suspended training in the Apollo program until the full impact of a fatal fire in a rocket could be assessed.

Ten years ago: Thousands of teenagers gathered in Miami's Orange Bowl for a rally for "decency in entertainment."

Five years ago: Eight people were killed and a dozen others injured when a gasoline can was ignited and thrown into a crowded bar in Allentown, Pa.

One year ago: The Senate completed action on a bill raising the mandatory retirement age to 70 for most Americans.

Today's birthdays: Social philosopher Eric Fromm is 79 years old. Irish civil rights leader Bernadette Devlin is 32.

Thought for today: There is no more miserable human being than one in whom nothing is habitual but indecision — psychologist William James, 1842-1910.

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"Lent" means spring. It is an old Latin word which means a fasting period next before Easter... a time for the conditioning of our will and for our souls to become penitent. It means the spending up time, the season for planting seeds and blooming trees. In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for beauty and goodness. Who of us is satisfied with what he has kept or let? Then let us clear away the rubbish... turn under the old stalks of last year's crop. May we learn from our Lord, to give ourselves during Lent to good meditation. For the practice of Lent is repentance leading to newness of life. Saint Mark said, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refresh my soul."

Calloway Falls To Oldham County 58-50

By TONY WILSON
Sports Editor

RICHMOND, Ky. — Oldham County girls basketball coach David Weedman said before the game he thought the difference in the officiating in the two regions might make a factor.

And Calloway County coach Marianne Davis said after the game she KNEW it was a difference.

"We were beaten to death, literally," said Davis, after her Lakers were dropped by Oldham County 58-50 in the first round of the Girls State High School Basketball Tournament in Alumni Coliseum last night.

The loss ended the Lakers' season and gave them only their fourth loss against 20 victories. Oldham County, now 20-7, takes on Butler County, an impressive winner over Boyd County, tonight at 9 p.m.

"That reaching around and hacking at the ball just isn't allowed in the First Region," said Davis. "But that isn't a knock at Oldham County. That's the way they are used to playing, and they played a good game."

The Colonels, Eighth Region champions, jumped to a 10-2 lead and led the entire contest, though Calloway rallied repeatedly in the second half but could never tie or lead the game.

"We were worried about how physical Oldham was supposed to be," said Davis, who ended her coaching career at Calloway. She announced recently that she would move to Frankfort at the end of the school year.

Oldham held leads as large as 15 points in the first half against the jittery Lakers, who were held to a single field goal for the entire first quarter and 15 seconds into the next.

But Mina Todd, the Lakers' leading scorer with a 21-point average, scored eight straight points — she pumped in Calloway's first 12 in the game — to pull her team within 13-10 with 4:36 left in the quarter.

Oldham, though, began to assert its superior rebounding strength and outpointed Calloway 12-4 over the next three minutes for a 25-14 edge. The Colonels led 33-16 at the half.

"I think our defense was good enough in the first half," said Davis after the game. "We just weren't hitting our normal shots."

That statement showed on the statistics, as the Lakers hit on only 10-of-27 (37 percent) shots. Oldham was 14 of 35 after two periods.

While Todd kept Calloway within striking distance in the first half with 14 points, the second half could have been entitled "The Stephanie Wyatt Show."

The 5-10 senior center hauled down 17 rebounds after the intermission, enabling the Lakers to get vital second and third shots.

On two different occasions, Calloway edged within three points, the last time at 41-38 with 5:49 left in the game. Rose Ross missed the front end of a bonus free-throw attempt, though, and Oldham stretched the advantage back out to nine points on an eight-footer by Mary Wagoner and two baskets by Rita Berry. Calloway was never closer than four points thereafter.

"We felt like if we could get put pressure on Ross, we could get her to handle the ball more and keep Todd from getting the ball as much," said Weedman, making his second trip to the Sweet 16 in three years. "I think we got the job done."

Davis, though, felt the roughness of the contest, especially in the backcourt, was the difference. "Rose just wasn't used to being slapped on the arms every time she dribbled," said Davis.

"She kept coming up to me and saying 'they're hitting me,' but there was nothing we could do about it."

Todd, said Davis, was ill and hadn't practiced all week. "She had a hard time getting up and down the court," Davis said. "She had a 100-degree fever earlier this week, and she's lost a lot of weight. It took a lot out of her just to be out on the floor."

Todd still finished with 20 points to lead all scorers, connecting on 10-of-19 shots. Ross, with 14, was the only other double-figure scorer for the Lakers.

Oldham's front line of Viv Bohon,

Rita Berry and Mary Wagoner combined for 37 points and 20 rebounds. Bohon, a smooth 5-10 center, hit on 7-of-13 shots, while Berry, a physical 5-7 forward, had four field goals, including two layups in the closing seconds to help ice the contest for the Colonels.

Calloway's best quarter was the third, when it outscored Oldham 13-8. "I guess we felt like the game was over after the first half, so we just quit playing," said Weedman. "Then it got close, and we began to play well again."

"Nothing they did was a surprise," said Davis. "We missed some shots in the first quarter, then we missed vital free throws — Calloway was 8-for-18 for the game — in the second."

"But we did the First Region proud, I think," said Davis. Teams have come up from our region and gotten blown out. We have nothing to be ashamed of."

The Lakers outrebounded the taller Colonels 49-39 but hit just 21-of-60 field-goal tries (35 percent) for the game.

Oldham sank 22 of 57 for 39 percent. "Neither team played particularly well," Weedman said. "Both teams were tight in the first quarter. But we did a good job to even win."

Dominating Lakers' Wyatt Ends Career At Calloway With Outstanding Half

It was a full 45 minutes after the game, but Stephanie Wyatt was still overcome with emotion. One look at her would have told anyone the outcome of last night's Calloway County-Oldham County matchup.

"It just wasn't enough," she repeated softly to herself as she and the rest of the Laker team milled around talking to fans and parents while waiting for the bus to take it back to the motel.

Dawn Redden prepares to shoot against Oldham County during last night's state tournament game. Calloway County lost 58-50.

It was hard to imagine this Wyatt as the same one who had earlier battled it out with an Oldham County team that was more physical than any other Calloway had faced.

Surrounded most of the time by players as much as three inches taller than she, Wyatt hauled down an amazing 17 second-half rebounds. Her efforts helped Calloway make a run at Colonels before it ran out of steam and lost 58-50 in the first round of the Girls State High School Basketball Tournament.

"I had dreamt my whole life of playing in the state tournament," said Wyatt, a 5-10 senior center. "Then I went out and just stood around in the first half." After two quarters, Wyatt owned one — that's ONE — rebound.

"Coach (Marianne Davis) just told me to play ball in the second like she knew I could. It just seemed like we all stood around in the first half."

"Great game, Stephanie," fans said repeatedly to Wyatt. "But it just wasn't enough," she said, as the tears continued to flow.

But it almost was. While Oldham County, and most notably front-liners Viv Bohon, Rita Berry and Mary Wagoner, ripped down rebound after offensive rebound in the first half, things all changed after the intermission.

'Breds Triumph, Tie In Twinbill

It was a frustrating way to end a baseball game, but at least Murray State didn't come out on the losing end.

After beating Northwestern 5-1 in their first game, the Thoroughbreds looked to have a good shot of winning the second against Chicago Circle Thursday afternoon.

Rain and darkness forced the umpires to declare the seventh inning the last to be played, but Murray loaded the bases with only one out in the bottom of the frame. But two popups ended the contest, giving the 'Breds one win, one draw and improving their overall record to 8-1.

They faced Iowa State and Northwestern in another doubleheader today at Regan Field. The first game began at 1 p.m.

Murray 5, Northwestern 1
Righthander Cliff Buechel became Murray's first two-game winner, scattering four hits over six and one-third innings. But he needed relief help from freshman Kyle Byrd.

Bill Dierberger slammed a home run to lead off Northwestern's seventh inning and spoil Buechel's shutout bid. And, after Northwestern loaded the bases with one out, Byrd came on.

He retired the next two batters on a grounder he tossed to the plate for a forecut and drawing a popup to catcher Jeff Oakley.

Murray scored all the runs it needed in the first inning when Doran Perdue scored on a single and Steve Sencibaugh came around on a throwing error by the shortstop.

After Perdue had walked and stole second, Sencibaugh rapped a single for one run, and Robin Courtney's grounder was misplayed, allowing Sencibaugh to score.

In the sixth, first baseman Bill Wagoner doubled home Greg Tooley, who had singled, and scored moments later on two passed balls.

Murray 4, Chicago Circle 4
Chicago Circle reliever Dave Dir retired both Greg Tooley and Bill Wagoner on pop-ups to kill the 'Breds rally and force a tie.

Doran Perdue had opened the inning with a walk before stealing second and third. Two more bases-on-balls set up Dir's heroics.

The 'Breds went ahead 1-0 in the second inning when Wagoner scored from second after starter John Barak overthrew first base on an attempted pickoff.

But Chicago rallied to go ahead 3-1 in the third when Murray centerfielder Tony Threatt misplayed a bases-loaded hit, allowing all three Chicago runners to score.

But Murray bounced back for two runs in the fourth to knot the score.

Tom Fehn walked and Tooley was hit by a pitch, setting up a two-run double by designated hitter Tim Hopkins. Hopkins has now hit safely in four straight games.

Chicago took the lead once more with a single run in the fifth, but Tony Threatt's sacrifice fly scored Tom Fehn from third in the sixth for the final margin.

Wyatt Finishes Laker Career

Wyatt dominated the backboards to such an extent that Oldham County failed to get a single rebound and putback — something it did with consistency in the first half — in the third quarter.

Calloway even managed to pull as close as three points on two different occasions before the comeback fizzled and Oldham sealed its victory with free throws late in the game.

Leading scorer Mina Todd was slowed with illness, and forward Dawn Redden was hampered with a heavily bandaged leg. With Oldham putting extreme pressure on Calloway's other double-figure scorer, Rose Ross, the Lakers needed someone else to do something offensively.

Wyatt responded with nine points, tying a season high, in addition to her board-clearing efforts.

"I really don't look to score," she said. "We have too many good shooters on this team. I just want to get the rebound, or make the good pass for an assist." A player like Wyatt explains, in part, the shining 20-3 record Calloway brought into the state tournament.

"There's no doubt that Stephanie had the best game — at least the best half — of her life," said Davis. "She was getting the outlet pass to our guards well, and she kept their (Oldham County's) big players from killing us on the backboards."

Afterwards, Wyatt was as disgusted with the tempo the officials allowed during the game as her teammates seemed to be throughout.

"We just can't smack at the ball in the First Region like they were doing to us," Wyatt said. "Coach tried to keep it in our heads that they would be physical, but it's still hard to adjust when you're used to playing a certain way the whole season."

The Lakers, and especially Wyatt, adjusted well enough in the second half to make the contest a tight one and send the Calloway County students that arrived in six buses bonkers.

Only Lexington Lafayette's Melanie Miller has totaled more rebounds (19) that did Wyatt during the eight first-round games.

"We did make it a little exciting in the second though," said Wyatt. She allowed a grin to creep onto her face. "But it just wasn't enough."

Stephanie Wyatt watches the result of a free throw attempt.

State Tournament

The Calloway County girls basketball team earned its first trip ever to the state tournament by winning the First Region title on March 6. Last night, the Lakers fell to Oldham County 58-50 in the first round of the Girls State High School Basketball Tournament in Richmond. Calloway, which opened its season with 11 straight victories, finishes at 20-3, its best season ever.

Wise Is Off, But Lafayette Wins

By CHARLES WOLFE
 Associated Press Writer
 RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Lea Wise suffered through a miserable 7-for-23 shooting performance, but compensated with floor leadership and foul shooting to put Lexington Lafayette into today's quarterfinal round of the Kentucky girls high school basketball tournament.
 "Wise's game was off the first half, but I wasn't worried about her," said Coach Kathy Neal. "She was making up for it by setting up our offense."
 Wise, Lafayette's all-state guard, also set up Campbell County for the kill by calmly sinking four straight free throws in the final 27 seconds as the Lady Generals nipped the Camels 57-55 in overtime in Thursday's first game. Lafayette, 28-2, plays West Hopkins, 32-1, tonight. Defending champion Laurel County, 33-0, faces Clay County, 29-0, in today's first game. Allen County, 22-4, plays Paris, 26-4, and Louisville Butler, 23-9, meets Oldham County, 24-9, in other games today.

 In other games Thursday, West Hopkins staved off Leslie County 47-43, Butler romped past Boyd County 72-43 and Oldham County held on for a 58-50 victory over Calloway County.
 Listless Lafayette trailed by as many as 12 points in the second half and Campbell County looked like a sure bet to make the quarterfinals.
 "In the state tournament, I didn't know whether we could come back or not," Neal said. "I told them to try and do it a little at a time. They had every opportunity to beat us. I guess they missed 13 or 14 free throws."

 The Camels actually sank just 13 of 27 free throws while Lafayette managed to hit 11 of its 13 attempts.
 Tammy Ratliff grabbed a rebound and dropped the ball in the basket with 57 seconds to go as West Hopkins outlasted Leslie County in a game distinguished by 64 turnovers and 38 personal fouls.
 "We didn't play well at all," said West Hopkins Coach Doug Harris. "I'm happy we won, but not with the way we played. Leslie County is real quick and they play real good defense."

 Unfortunately for the Eagles, their offense hardly matched their defense as they hit just 26 percent from the field. The Rebelets, meanwhile, got by on 43 percent shooting.
 "Lafayette is much larger and not as quick as Leslie County," Harris added. "I expect our game with them to be a little different."
 Butler served notice that it is to be reckoned with in the tournament by dispatching Boyd County behind the sparkling play of Janet McNew, Patricia Johnson and Rosalind Smith.
 "We were ready," said Coach Peggy Fiehrer. "They saw what happened to Assumption (a 78-61 first-round loser to Paris)."

and deft ballhandling, dominated the backcourt and McNew was a force in the middle, but Fiehrer was especially pleased with the performance of freshman Johnson.

 The clinic is geared for coaches of junior and senior high school teams and youth league teams and prospective coaches enrolled in college.

DePaul's Likable Meyer Adds Flavor To NCAAs

By WILL GRIMSLEY
 AP Special Correspondent
 SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — There's very little new in basketball as far as strategy and tactics are concerned.
 "It all runs in cycles," insists a man who has been coaching it effectively for 37 years. But the men who play it — that's something else.
 "Twenty and 30 years ago games were won with coaching," says DePaul's venerable Ray Meyer. "Now it's won with the talent."
 The change is phenomenal. When I started you could win a game with mediocre material. Not any more. Now you win with talent. You have to meet bigness with bigness and quickness with quickness.
 "Just as you can't have a circus without animals, so you can't have a winning team without not just good but superb athletes. Sometimes I take out some old films and show them to my kids. They go into hysterics. It's like watching an 'Our Gang' Comedy."
 Meyer, a pleasant, fatherly man whose career overlapped that of such coaching immortals as Phog Allen, Adolph Rupp and Clair Bee, has added a comfortable, homespun touch to the NCAA basketball showdown scheduled here, starting Saturday.
 His DePaul team from Chicago will play top-ranked Indiana State, with the formidable Larry Bird, in one semifinal match Saturday, with Michigan State and Pennsylvania clashing in the other. The title game is slated Monday night.
 The very presence of Meyer has made DePaul the sentimental favorite. He is a fresh, wholesome personality who has captivated fans and the press with his infectious friendliness and enthusiasm.
 While his younger rivals have displayed edginess and a tendency to tighten under pressure, a couple even invoking a gag rule for players, Meyer has been conducting endless informal press conferences in the hotel lobby and shooting to and from TV

 Will Grimsley
 "I gave my golf clubs to my stations at a moment's call. His endurance and patience have been amazing.
 "Basketball is my life," he told one interviewer. "As soon as the season ends, I will start my recruiting program, then I have a camp and, after that, it will be time to start up again. I love it."
 Does Meyer have a hobby?

son-in-law and threw away my fishing gear," he said. "No, just basketball — that's it."
 Meyer gets involved on the sidelines during an intense game — but with his players not the officials.
 "I have had three technicals in 37 years," he said proudly.
 The mortality rate among coaches is greater than ever, he said, expressing distress at the resignation of his good friend, Gary Cunningham at UCLA. DePaul beat UCLA in the regional playoffs.
 "Colleges build big gyms, then they have to keep them full. To do that, they've got to win. It's terrible pressure."
 The coach said he realized his problem Saturday is devising an antidote for Bird, rated the best college player in years.
 "Bird has great vision and great hands," he added. "He has instincts like a caged animal. It's impossible to stop him. So we'll let him get his points and try to stop everybody else."

Gilliam Awarded Letter

Frank Gilliam, Jr., son of Mr. Frank Gilliam and Mrs. Willie Belle Farless, has earned a varsity letter for his participation on the 1978-79 Haverford College basketball team.
 Gilliam, a freshman at Haverford, is a graduate of Murray High School, where he compiled an impressive sports record. In addition to earning seven varsity letters for his participation on the basketball, football, and track teams, he also received a number of outside awards.
 For two years Gilliam was a member of the first region All-Tournament basketball team, and was on the All-Purchase All-Star team. Also a fine football player, Gilliam was on the All-West Kentucky Conference team. He served as captain on both his basketball and football teams.
 In just his freshman year, Gilliam proved to be a welcome addition to the team. He averaged over nine points per game and compiled good percentages in both field goals and free throws.

Racer Netters Top Mich. State
 The Murray State men's tennis team upped its unbeaten record to 4-0 by stopping Michigan State 5-1 in a rain-shortened match Thursday afternoon at the MSU tennis complex.
 Terje Persson beat Steve Klemm, 7-6, 6-1 at No. 1 singles for the Racers, while Chris Leonard stopped Matt Sandler, 6-2, 7-5 at No. 2.
 Roger Berthiaume defeated Frank Willard, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2 at No. 3, Finn Swarting beat Scott King, 6-2, 7-5 at No. 4 and Haverford head coach Tony Zanin says "Frank had a great second half of the year, playing the role of our shooting guard."

 Mike Costigan belted Mike Stowe, 6-3, 6-4 at No. 5.
 The lone Murray loss came at No. 6, where Steve Willie fell to State's Jeff Wickman, 6-3, 7-6.
 After Murray gained insurmountable edge, the three doubles matches were cancelled.
 The Racers are in Terre Haute, Ind., today and Saturday to compete in a quadrangular meet involving Indiana State, Marquette and DePaul.

"CERTAINLY IT'S THE BEST SEDAN TO COME FROM EUROPE IN A LONG WHILE."
 —ROAD TEST MAGAZINE ON THE AUDI 5000

Read these comments on the Audi 5000 that appeared in the January, 1978 issue of ROAD TEST MAGAZINE:

"At freeway speeds the ride is serene and smooth, there is no mechanical noise, and no wind noise. You get bored, turn on the radio, and just drive—until you glance down at the gauges and notice that you're making 85 mph. It's sneaky; it'll fool you if you don't pay attention. It'll also nip in and out of traffic like a much smaller car, thanks to the way it responds to its controls."

"It may just be the ultimate sports sedan."

"...the price...isn't near as much as some of the 5000's closest competitors sell for. That, of course, is the name of the game, and Audi is playing it to the hilt with development of solid concept and good attention to detail. They're going to sell every one of these cars they can screw together."

Test drive the 1979 edition of the Audi 5000 and see if it isn't so.

Bell Gives Rules For Investigator

By ROBERT FURLOW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney General Griffin B. Bell is laying down rules today giving "a good deal of independence, fairly broad power" to the investigator he appointed to look into finances of President Carter's family peanut business, a spokesman says.

Release of a charter spelling out powers and job protection of the new "special counsel" comes amid continuing complaints about Bell's refusal to appoint a "special prosecutor" instead.

Department spokesman Robert Havel said Thursday night the charter will give the investigator, former U.S. attorney Paul J. Curran of New York, "pretty free rein" in checking allegations concerning 1975-76 Carter Warehouse loans of more than $6.5 million from the National Bank of Georgia — then headed by Bert Lance who later was Carter's federal budget director.

Congressional critics — primarily Republicans — have been demanding more than a grant of broad authority to a Bell-appointed investigator. They want a full-fledged special prosecutor completely independent of the Justice Department and Bell, who was appointed by Carter.

The Justice Department has said Bell has no legal authority to seek a prosecutor answerable only to a special court panel — an arrangement spelled out in the new Ethics in Government Act. That act, inspired by the Watergate scandal, took effect in October 1978, but department lawyers argue it can't be legally used in this case because it was well under way by that date.

However, Havel acknowledged Thursday night that Bell could have labeled the investigator he appointed a "special prosecutor," since his legal authority was the same as that used to appoint special Watergate prosecutors.

But Bell has said he chose his "special counsel" terminology instead because "we believe in due process of law and we don't announce in advance, before we finish investigation, that we're going to prosecute someone."

Rev. Franklin Will Speak At Services

The North Pleasant Grove Cumberland Presbyterian Church will conduct regular services this week with the pastor, the Rev. Dwayne Franklin, speaking on the subject, "The Meaning of Discipleship," at the 11 a.m. hour.

Sunday School will be at 10 a.m. and evening worship will be at 6 p.m. The church is located on the Roy Graham Road.

The church will observe "One Great Hour of Sharing" on Sunday, and church officials encourage each member to give up coffee, Cokes, snacks, or a meal and make a contribution to the OGHs.

Through Church World Service the offering will help provide food, clothing, clean water, medical needs, new homes after natural disasters, self-help projects, and meet many other needs of needy people around the world, church officials said.

help it. "I would not administer such a program," he said.

Another presidential adviser, Lyle E. Gramley of the Council of Economic Advisers, said there is a clear risk that inflation this year will exceed the administration's 7.4 percent forecast. He said he could give no new figure but doubted it would exceed 10 percent.

The Labor Department gave the following breakdown for various categories of price increases in February:

- Food and beverages 1.6 percent, up from 1.4 percent in January.
- Housing 1.3 percent, up from 0.6 percent.
- Apparel and upkeep 0.3 percent, up from 0.2 percent.
- Transportation 1.1 percent, the same as January.
- Medical care 0.6 percent, down from 1.1 percent.
- Entertainment 0.4 percent, down from 0.8 percent.
- Other goods and services 0.7 percent, the same as January.

The 1.3 percent rise in housing costs was primarily due to a sharp 3.1 percent increase in mortgage interest costs, a 1.3 percent rise in housing prices and a 1.5 percent jump in property insurance, the Labor Department said.

The rise in mortgage interest was due partially to removal of the statutory ceilings on interest rates in California and New York, the department said. Only in one other month since the housing index was begun in 1967 have housing prices risen so sharply. That was in August 1974, when they also rose 1.3 percent.

In addition to meat prices, there were also sharply higher food prices in February for poultry, fresh fruits, bakery products, dairy products and fats and oils.

Visiting Artist To Lecture March 26 At University

Emmet Gowin, a photographer and member of the faculty at Princeton University, will deliver a visiting artist lecture at Murray State University on Monday evening, March 26.

Scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. in Room 423 of the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center, his presentation will include slides and a discussion of his works.

Gowin is also scheduled to make a similar presentation from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. at Calloway County High School on the same date. Both programs are free and open to the public.

In seeking to describe the world within his domain, Gowin often uses his family as the subject for his photographs. His works have been widely exhibited.

"Sometimes my photographs resemble home snapshots," Gowin says, "which are among the richest resources of images I know. But I want to make pictures that are more than family record because the pictures an artist makes are in part a picture of himself — a matter of identity."

His visit to the campus is supported by the Kentucky Arts Commission, the National Endowment for the Arts, and Murray State as part of a program to bring guest artists to the university and the surrounding area.

broadcast of the Texaco-Metropolitan Opera Radio Network series for 1978-79.

Singing principal roles will be soprano Makvala Kasrashvili and baritone Yuri Mazurok in their Metropolitan Opera broadcast debuts, along with tenor Neil Schicoff and bass Paul Plishka. Also making his Met broadcast debut will be conductor Naami Yarvi.

During the first intermission, "Opera News on the Air," musicologist Boris Goldovsky will offer a musical and dramatic analysis of "Eugene Onegin." Texaco's Opera Quiz will be heard during the second intermission.

POET WINS WHITMAN PRIZE

NEW YORK (AP) — The Academy of American Poets has named Karen Snow the recipient of its 1978 Walt Whitman Award for her first book of poetry "Wonders," soon to be published.

The poet, a 54-year-old mother of two sons, is a Michigan native and lives with her husband near Seattle, Wash., on an island in Puget Sound. Karen Snow is her pen name.

The award includes a $1,000 cash prize and the publishing of "Wonders."

Nothing Seems To Work For NBC's Prime Time Schedule

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC-TV has overhauled its prime-time schedule several times since September, and nothing seems to work.

The troubled network listed only one program among the first 22 in the A.C. Nielsen Co.'s ratings for the week ending March 18, and that's no way to compete with ABC, which had seven of the top 10.

While ABC ran away with the ratings race for the 10th week in a row, NBC remained mired in last place for the fifth consecutive week. NBC's rating was 13.6, lowest of the season for any network and nearly 10 points behind ABC's 22.2—CBS was runnerup at 17.7.

The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, only 13.6 percent of the homes in the country were tuned to NBC.

As failure seems to follow failure at NBC, ABC continues to build on successful series. "Three's Company" was the week's most-watched program, followed immediately in the ratings by the premiere episode of a spinoff from the successful series, "The Ropers."

The rating for "Three's Company" was 38.5. Nielsen says that means of all the homes in the country with TV, 38.5 percent saw at least part of the show.
NBC's best for the week was 14th-rated "Little House on the Prairie," followed by the most successful of its new programs, "Diff'rent Strokes," No. 23.

NBC has been least successful with new entries. In fact, several programs introduced since the start of the season were clustered near the bottom in Nielsen's rankings. "B.J. and the Bear" was 47th, "Cliffhangers" 49th, the ultraexpensive "Supertrain" 55th and "Mrs. Columbo" 59th.

Indeed, four of the week's five lowest-rated programs were on NBC, including No. 64 "Checkered Flag or Crash," No. 65 "Harris and Co.," No. 66 "Weekend" and No. 68 "Rafferty and the Highway Hustlers." The interloper was CBS' "In Search of Peace" news special, ranked 67th.

Here are the week's 10 top-rated shows:

"Three's Company," with a Motion Picture Association of America rating definition: G—General audiences. All ages admitted.

PG—Parental guidance suggested. Some material may not be suitable for children.

R—Restricted. Under 17 requires accompanying parent or adult guardian.
X—No one under 17 admitted. Some states may have higher age limits.

ONE MILLION FILTER WATER

LOMBARD, Ill. (AP) — In 1977, the production of filters for household water filtration systems passed the one million mark, according to the Water Quality Association, but wasn't enough to meet demand.

"Production of three to five million units is expected in the years immediately ahead," said Douglas R. Oberhomer, executive director of the association. "With the number of American households at 72 million, it is going to take at least 10 million units annually to catch up with market needs."

Energy Efficiency Quiz —How Does Your Home Score?

Are your home's monthly operating expenses as low as they could be? Find out by comparing your home to the energy-efficient home in the illustration.

If your home scores 10 points or better, be assured your fuel bills are well under control. A score of 5 to 10 points means your home may still benefit from selective energy-saving improvements, such as increased insulation. A score lower than 5 points indicates that a lot of your heating and cooling dollars are being wasted.

Concert Date Rescheduled

The Murray Civic Music Association concert featuring the Chicago Symphony String Quartet has been changed from Sunday April 8 to Saturday March 31, according to Jane Curd.

She added that the concert will be held in Lovett Auditorium.

This column is designed to report on the activities and positions of the candidates in the various statewide races in this May's primary election. Many of the items contained in the column come directly from the candidate or his or her staff.

Former Gov. Edward T. Breathitt will be the principal speaker here April 5 at an "appreciation barbecue" for Manell J. Vinson, candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture in the Democratic primary May 22.

For ten years, Vinson has been director of Alumni Affairs at Murray State University. He will be taking a leave of absence soon to actively conduct his campaign. He was assistant Commissioner of Agriculture for 13 years and director of Agricultural Marketing for three years.

The barbecue picnic will be held at 6:30 p.m., April 5, in the spacious West Kentucky Exposition Center on the MSU campus. Dr. E. B. Howton, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Vinson, has announced that William Cherry, director of the Expo Center, will receive reservations by phone or mail for the barbecue buffet. Tickets may be obtained at Bank of today that Joe Tom Erwin, Rt. 6 Murray, will serve as treasurer of the newly formed finance committee for her campaign.

"I believe Mary-Jane would be an intelligent and caring legislator, who would represent the interests of every person in her district," Erwin said. "I know she believes strongly in representative government, that she understands the problems of Kentucky, and that she would give the job her best effort, which is considerable."

Erwin is the son of the late Hub Erwin, who was a farmer and tobacco buyer in the South Pleasant Grove community, and Eva Bazell Erwin. Erwin was sports information director at Murray State University until his retirement last year.

Members of the finance committee include Jack Belote, Peggy Billington, Tommy Carroll, Betty Haas, Don Henry, Charles Homra, Desiree Hosick, Dr. Donald Hughes, Jack Beale Kennedy, Lochie Landolt and Bill McCuiston.

Sara Bell, chief clerk of the Kentucky House of Representatives, today filed as Democratic candidate for the office of State Auditor. Mrs. Bell said in her announcement that she feels here 12 year's administrative experience in state government, in addition to her previous work experiences as an accountant and statistician, qualifies her for the job.

The demands of trade unions are a major cause of inflation, according to U.S. Rep. Carroll Hubbard, D-Ky., a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Hubbard told the Lexington Kiwanis Club Thursday he is not receiving union support in the upcoming May primary because of his voting record in Congress against unions.

Hubbard predicted the largest election turnout in the state's history, saying Kentuckians are fed up with corruption in state government.

He said another factor contributing to inflation is wasteful spending by the federal government, and said he favors balancing the federal budget.

Two ways to do it are to cut foreign aid to countries that have voted against the United States in the United Nations, and to cut out millions of dollars being spent each year to support fraudulent welfare claims, he said.

Political Economist To Be Distinguished Lecturer

Dr. Gordon Tullock, a political economist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, will be the Harry Lee Waterfield Distinguished Lecturer at Murray State University this year.

Tullock, a widely-recognized authority on the Chinese, having spent 10 years in China while in the foreign service of the United States, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 28, in the auditorium of Mason Hall, the nursing building.

The lecture, sponsored by the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs at the University, is free and open to the public.

Tullock, who currently holds a distinguished professorship in the Center for the Study of Public Choice at VPI, will be speaking on "Rent Seeking and Social Waste," suggesting that government administrative agencies have large discretionary authority over the application of regulation in given situations.

He is expected to discuss an economic concept, which he defines as "rent," referring to returns on investments which do not increase productivity but do increase income due to the position the individual or government holds.

The term, "rent-seekers," he contends, refers to those "who hope to gain by their positions" and "rent-avoiders" or those who try to get by without paying "rent" to the "rent seekers."

He notes, for example, that while bureaucrats or government agencies do not receive additional income when they literally apply federal standards, they do receive "compensation" in the long run.

It has become necessary, he says, for corporations, wishing to "avoid" govern-

Dr. Mullins, Jr., To Speak At South Pleasant Grove

The Rev. Dr. William P. Mullins, Jr., minister of the South Pleasant Grove United Methodist Church, will speak on the subject, "In Search of Freedom," with scripture from John 8:31-36 at the 10:45 a.m. services on Sunday, March 25, at the church.

"The Ninety and Nine" will be the selection by the Church Choir with Mrs. R. L. Cooper as director, Mrs. Otto Erwin as organist, and Tommy Gaines as pianist.

Special music will also be by the choir of the Wesley Foundation, Murray State University.

At the 6 p.m. service on Sunday Dr. Mullins, Jr., will speak on the subject, "Judas—The Man Who Thought He Knew More Than God."

Sunday School will be at 10 a.m., Choir Practice at 5 p.m., and United Methodist Youth Fellowship at 6:45 p.m., all on Sunday.

ment regulations or to have regulations applied less rigidly to them to compensate the government.

This, he contends, has led many corporations to employ lawyers trained in public-decision making processes as senior vice-presidents, or even presidents. "The corporation cannot be criticized for this strategy," he says, "for what else can a truly economic man be expected to do."

Tullock holds degrees in law, political science and economics and among his writings are such works as "The Calculus of Consent," "Private Wants, Private Means," "The Social Dilemma: The Economics of War and Revolution," and "The New World of Economics."

While on the Murray campus, he also will present a seminar explaining the applications of his thesis to a faculty-student group. This is set for 2 p.m. in Room 452 of the Business Building.

New Providence Church

To Hear Boyd At Lesson Series

Guest speaker for the series of the lessons at the New Providence Church of Christ from March 25 to 30 will be James W. Boyd of Jackson, Tenn.

Mr. Boyd presently teaches Bible each day at the Jackson Christian Church, and previously taught eight years at Boyd-Buchana School in Chattanooga, Tenn. He has had several of his articles published in various church papers, has spoken on lectureships at Michigan Christian, York College, David Lipscomb, Freed-Hardeman, and Spiritual Sword, Memphis, Tenn.

The guest teacher attended David Lipscomb College, is a graduate of Vanderbilt University, attended Indiana University, Harding Graduate School, and received his M. A. degree from Alabama Christian School of Religion. He has preached at churches
